

GIRLS DANCE INTO HYSTERIC

While Waltzing Pretty Margaret O'Brien Faints from Fatigue and Excitement.

HER FRIEND IN FRENZY.

On the Way to the Hospital One of the Girls Nearly Bites Off the Finger of a Policeman.

Two young and pretty girls who had literally danced themselves into hysterics and then became so frenzied that it was necessary to put them in strait-jackets, created excitement in upper east side streets by their wild screams as they were hurried in an ambulance to Bellevue Hospital early today. One of the girls, in an effort to free herself, got a policeman's finger in her mouth and bit through the flesh to the bone.

The girls were Margaret O'Brien, eighteen years old, of No. 346 East Thirty-second street, and Mary Churchill, her friend, who was on duty at the hall, decided things were getting too serious, and he telephoned to Flower Hospital for an ambulance.

One came with Dr. Richardson in charge. He had to put a strait-jacket on Miss Churchill before he could treat her. She fainted again, attracted by the screams of the girls. Finally the hospital was reached and both victims were strapped to cots and narcotics administered.

After a few hours' sleep Miss O'Brien and Miss Churchill woke up and said they wanted to go home. Miss O'Brien said she had to work to-day. After doctor had pronounced them recovered they were allowed to leave.

The excitement in the dance hall continued after the girls were removed. Several other young women who had danced too much, and who suffered from the shock of seeing the two girls carried from the ballroom, refused to be comforted by their escorts.

LABOR'S FRIEND ACCUSED.

While Politicians Nominate Minister His Church Suspends.

(Special to The Evening World.) SARATOGA, Oct. 6.—The Rev. William A. Wood, of South Glens Falls, who is alleged to have been one of those who incited the riots in Glens Falls on Saturday and Sunday, has been nominated by the Saratoga County Democratic Convention for member of Assembly.

He is pastor of the South Glens Falls Baptist Church, and yesterday was officially informed that his ministerial services would be dispensed with pending an investigation of his conduct. The disturbances were the outcome of the motormen's strike on the Hudson Valley Railway.

BOGOTA TO SAIL. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—At noon to-morrow the Colombian gunboat Bogota will sail for Panama. Such are the orders issued by Capt. TWO LADS MURDERED BY PLAYMATE IN LONELY MEADOW NEAR CAMDEN, N. J.

SEEK POISON IN CAMDEN CASE

Charge Against Negro for Deaths of Boys Turns on Chemist's Findings.

LAST ONE WITH THEM.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 6.—The chemical analysis of the viscera of John H. Coffin, eleven years old, and Price Jennings, fourteen years old, who are believed to have been murdered by poison and whose bodies were found in a field seven miles from here after a search since their disappearance last Wednesday, is expected to be completed to-day by Dr. George M. Berlinger.

The chemist is also making an analysis of some chocolate colored tablets found in the pockets of Paul Woodward, twenty-one years old, a negro, who surrendered himself when he heard that the authorities were looking for him.

So far as known, Woodward, who has been formally charged with their murder, was the last person seen with the boys. He is believed to have enticed the boys away from home, after inducing the Jennings boy to steal $100 from his father, Joseph Jennings, who is leader of the Thir. Regiment Band. Woodward had tried to coax the Coffin boy to leave his home on Tuesday.

When the boys did not return to their homes Wednesday night it was believed that the negro had induced them to run away with him, after taking the money, and a search was made for him, the police sending out his description with a request for his arrest.

When asked why he had charged Woodward with the murder, swearing out a warrant to that effect, Prosecutor Lloyd said:

"I will say only that I have witnesses who will prove that Woodward seemed very anxious to see Coffin and made frequent inquiries for him on Tuesday, the day before he disappeared. On Wednesday, between 4 and 6 P. M., Woodward was several times seen with the two boys, once before they left the neighborhood of the Coffin home, once on the streets of Camden, and again by Lillian Martin, fifteen years old, whose father conducts a 'cyclers' rest' at White Horse Pike and Collins avenue, near where the bodies were found."

WATCHMAN DEAD, CRIME SUSPECTED.

Long Island Coroner Looking for Evidence that Victim Had a Clash with Striking Oystermen.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SAYVILLE, L. I., Oct. 6.—John Reynolds, seventy years old, a watchman for oyster shippers Herring & Skinner, was found dead to-day in Brown's River.

Owing to the trouble existing between the union strikers and the shippers, some think the man may have been murdered.

Coroner Moore, of Bay Shore, has been notified. The oystermen have been on strike for some time, and affairs have reached an acute stage. As the feeling is bitter it is thought that the watchman may have had a clash with some of the strikers, was killed and his body thrown overboard.

PNEUMONIA LURKS IN DAMP TENEMENTS

Generous Offer for Relief of Coal Famine Sufferers in Which Newspapers Co-operate.

"Nine cents a shovel for coal is more than poor people can afford," said a New York paper the other day in an article telling of "damp, musty rooms in tall tenements uncheered by the flicker of a fire." One family of husband, wife and six children were in sore straits. One dollar a day, the father's earnings, was barely enough to buy food alone, and their little son had just returned from the hospital where he had been treated for pneumonia, an illness brought on by living in unheated rooms because the family was too poor to buy coal.

For fifty years it has been the custom of the Carlton & Hovey Co. of Lowell, Mass., to provide for all such cases, where the applicant is properly recommended, by furnishing Father John's medicine without charge, and with the co-operation of those on duty it is to watch out for the needy, much suffering may be prevented by the extension of this work, which the Carlton & Hovey Co. generously offer to do.

This charitable and humane custom originated soon after the Emigrant Specialist prescribed Father John's medicine for the late Rev. Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, Mass., by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name. In his watchfulness over the poor, Father John, as he was called by his parishioners and friends, found many sufferers unable to buy medicine. In such cases he would call at the old drug store of Carlton & Hovey for a bottle of the medicine that the people had named for him, explaining that it was for charity and that he hoped no charge would be made. His requests were always granted, and as a result many weak and sick were restored to health and strength. Since that day the work has been continued and extended, the medicine being sent free to many charitable institutions throughout the country, and always supplied to the needy in individual cases, as offered above. This old remedy is invaluable as a body builder, also for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. It prevents pneumonia and consumption. It is not a patent medicine, and is free from opium, morphine, poisonous, nerve-deadening drugs or weakening stimulants in any form, upon which many remedies depend for their temporary effect. It is a food medicine, the ingredients of which are pure and wholesome, nourishing the body and building up the system. Its gentle laxative effect strengthens the stomach and corrects the digestion, enabling each organ of the body to do its work properly, by which the impurities are driven out, and health and strength restored. It creates bodily warmth by which the system is enabled to ward off colds, pneumonia and similar ailments.

She quickly revived and Peterson started out to trace the gas. He found it coming from the servant's room. Opening the door he saw the woman lying on the bed with a gas tube in her hand. It had evidently fallen from her mouth. The gas was turned on full. Mr. Peterson ran out and telephoned for an ambulance from Lebanon Hospital, but in his excitement gave the wrong address, and after an hour's wait he summoned Policeman O'Brien, who gave the proper address and got the ambulance.

Dr. Reiss succeeded in resuscitating the woman, who admitted that she had tried to kill herself because her husband, John Eckhardt, had deserted her seven weeks ago. She said she did not know where he was living.
